CIRCULAR NO. 189

Many representations from the residents and elected representatives of the areas are being received regarding maintenance of peace and cleanliness in the resettlement colonies. It is seen that there is no shortage of sweepers engaged for maintaining cleanliness in these colonies but still the desired results are not being achieved. Chief engineers are requested to pay surprise visits to these colonies and action against the defaulting staff should be taken if anything wrong or sub-standard is found in these colonies. I would also be making surprise visit to see for myself the standard of cleanliness of these colonies and in case the things are not found upto the mark, strict action will be initiated against the defaulting officials. This may be brought to the notice of all Engineers upto the level of Junior Engineers for ensuring strict compliance of these instructions.

L.G. Dohal has stated during his inspection that a lot remains to be done and development works shall be completed in time and all debris removed and area picked up neatly.
